

University of Fall River The Premiere 21st Century Institution of Higher Learning

NEW VISIONS of Fall River

A Calendar for the Year 2010

“We are committed to providing to the students of the world a premiere education combining the best in classical knowledge with necessary skills for creating and sustaining a prosperous planet in the 21st Century-- one in which the earth is repaired, restored, and nurtered while civilization prospers...”

Dionne Hall, University of Fall River

Designed by George Delany, Design for Business

From a point just south of Point Gloria, to a location below the Braga Bridge— including the present marina, the University of Fall River has been conceived as a 21st century institution whose mission is to address pressing educational needs of our time. In a networked world, the University of Fall River is uniquely positioned to matriculate students of the highest quality, prepared to nurture and steward the earth while enabling human communities around the globe to prosper.

River House Campus, University of Fall River

Designed by George Delany, Design for Business

With energy independence among our primary goals, a variety of mill buildings adjacent to the river have been redesigned, retrofitted and equipped to require lower energy costs while utilizing energy-saving technologies that provide students with first-rate educational facilities. Fall River now has in place the capacity to grow and prosper in ways not imagined since the early 19th century when textiles ruled the day.
